

Stephen Gill as Interpreter/translator

Urdu/Punjabi/English

Stephen Gill, a Canadian citizen, is a government certified interpreter for Urdu and English languages. He is an established writer and poet of English, Urdu and Panjabi languages. He has university degrees in both English and Urdu languages and has passed tests and courses to qualify for the work.

He has translated poems from Urdu/Hindi into English.

He worked independently and for years for Language Link Ontario, Kingston, Ontario. He has passed:

A test for Panjabi interpretation for courts in Eastern Ontario;

The CILISAT language test for community Urdu interpreters;

All the components of the interpreter core competency training program approved by the Ministry of Citizenship of the Government of Ontario.

Stephen Gill is a writer of English, Urdu and Panjabi. Therefore, he can say he is fluent in these languages. He can communicate with confidence also in Hindi.

He has soft wares for both English and Urdu languages to produce texts professionally on his computer.

Stephen Gill does this work to help people and also to help himself to feed his passion for writing.

Scanned copies of his certificate are available on request.

For serious inquiries:

EMAIL: stephengillgazette@gmail.com

TELEPHONE: 613- 935-5500

CEL: 613-662-0237 (EMERGENCY ONLY)